Speaking Agencies: Lauren McCluskey Foundation, Federal Bureau of Investigations (FBI), U.S. Secret Service, UC Merced Police, UC Berkeley Police (retired), UCSF Police, University of California Office of the President, California State University Chancellor's Office, Stanford University, California Highway Patrol, Department of Education

Keynote Speaker – Dr. Jill McCluskey, Lauren McCluskey Foundation

Jill McCluskey co-founded the Lauren McCluskey Foundation with her husband Matt after the murder of their daughter Lauren. Jill serves as the Foundation's President. She started the Lauren's Promise campaign, and she is collaborating on the campus safety score initiative. She shares Lauren's story to increase awareness of the seriousness of dating violence and make positive change, so that others will not lose their daughters to violence. Jill is also a Regents Professor and Director of the School of Economic Sciences at Washington State University. She received her Ph.D. in Agricultural and Resource Economics from UC Berkeley.

- ▶ Lauren's Story and Lessons Learned
- ▶ Campus Safety Initiatives
- ▶ Lauren's Promise

Lauren's Promise

Lauren's Promise is a vow that anyone – faculty, staff, students, parents, and community members – can take to indicate to others that they represent a safe haven for sharing incidents of sexual assault, domestic violence, or stalking. Anyone who makes Lauren's Promise will listen to and believe those individuals who are being threatened or experiencing sexual assault, dating violence or stalking and will help connect victims to support resources. By making Lauren's Promise, individuals are helping to change campus cultures that respond poorly to dating violence and stalking throughout the nation.

I promise to:

- ▶ Listen and believe you if someone is threatening you
- ▶ Represent a safe haven for sharing incidents of sexual assault, domestic violence, or stalking
- ▶ Change campus culture that responds poorly to dating violence and stalking

Kari Gomes

Sergeant
University of California Merced

Sergeant Gomes holds a Master's Degree in Administration of Justice. She began her law enforcement career at Merced Police department in 2007. During those years, commercial sex work was viewed as criminal prostitution. She participated in undercover prostitution stings to arrest commercial sex buyers. Sergeant Gomes realized an overwhelming demand for sex for money in Merced that still exists today.

Sergeant Gomes joined UC Merced Police in 2011 starting in the Investigations division of the department as a Detective. She now serves as the Investigations Sergeant and represents the department on several teams, committees and educational programs. Gomes is recognized as an expert witness in Merced Superior Court.

She works alongside Detective Brown on proactive cases. They both utilize their individual skills to communicate with pimps to remain current on what is now the fastest growing crime in California. Sergeant Gomes is elated to answer questions from university officials, professors, students and parents about how to be ready.

Kourtney Brown

Detective
University of California Merced

Detective Brown began her career in Huron, CA as a patrol officer. During her five years she developed strong relationships with community members serving in the agricultural community as laborers. Detective Brown continued her career as a patrol officer with Merced Police department for five years. During this time, she investigated calls for service relating to verbal arguments at hotels, domestic violence injuries, prostitution (now referred to as commercial sex), violence, drug sales, and gangs. Her work led her to UC Merced Police Department to work directly with university students for the past four years.

Detective Brown applied her knowledge and began investigating online to learn what was taking place with UC Merced specifically. Detective Brown designed a multi-week free training, “Bring down the Crown” for Merced County. She is recognized as an expert with investigators throughout the state of California reaching out to her for guidance.

Detective Brown is currently working with the University of California, Office of the President’s threat assessment team to make Human Trafficking a Systemwide educational priority. Her vision is to educate all students, staff and faculty in the University of California system. Detective Brown is available to assist any agency requesting assistance.
